Story telling through the photographer's lens.

Our vision is to creatively and artistically capture the moments of your day as they unfold.

Striking a balance between traditional, photojournalistic, connection and documentary styles, Steinland's unique vision tells your story in compelling ways.

Who is Steinland... and what are they about?

As a husband and wife team, Larry and Nancy Stein of Steinland Photography have been engaged in storytelling through the art of photography for a combination of 35 plus years.

Their vision is to use the medium of photography to tell the story of people's lives, their love for each other, their emotions, their passions and their interests.

Their goal is to create images that tell the story.

So what makes Steinland different than all the rest?

Relationships. Steinland is about the person and who they are. At Steinland you matter; by taking the time to know you, understanding your likes and dislikes and the images that are important to you. Steinland will hand craft individualized images that captures you and your day in compelling ways.

- Engagement sessions – Taking the time to get to know each other before your wedding
- Capturing all the angles – about 1500+ shots pr wedding!

- Taking the time to find the detail, your wedding dress, your rings, it's all about the small stuff!
- Taking time after your wedding... Steinland invests about 40-60 hours hand crafting your images in post production work

- Doing it your way... never let anyone tell you how your day is to unfold. Formals before or after your choice. Stop at your favorite spot no problem.
- The best equipment to get it right... we shoot with 4 cameras and 10 different kinds of lenses.

Two Styles, One Vision

As a husband and wife team, we bring two perspectives to telling your wedding day story.

Different parts of your day call for different styles of photography. We offer what few can; flexibility in style that allows us to capture your wedding day story...your way!

Connection Photography. Nancy's experience comes from years of portraiture. Her images go beyond traditional photojournalism to focus on human emotion. Capturing your special moments as they occur. Nancy's images touch the heart.

Photojournalism. Larry brings experience from companies such as the Chicago Tribune and Pioneer Press. His well defined photojournalistic approach to the day captures spontaneity. Your day will be seen from all perspectives. Your story will be told through the art of photography.

Storytellers at heart. Larry and Nancy Stein strive to capture all aspects of your day in strong and compelling ways. Knowing which style to use and when is our craft, it is what separates us from others.

We bring you unparalleled photographic moments that capture the essence of your special day.

Pricing

Steinland's goal is to be as transparent as possible, showing integrity and honesty. Steinland has crafted packages that include their most popular offerings. But the heart of Steinland is service, striving to create a product the way you want it. So it is very common to create custom packages, with the services and products that will serve you best.

Steinland pricing structure begins at $1,299 for four hours of coverage and extends with additional time, services and products to about $4,000. Regardless of price, the service is always the same.
